A photograph of a dead animal skull, likely a buffalo or similar large herbivore, lying on dry, dusty ground. The skull is white and bleached, with large, dark, curved horns. The surrounding ground is covered in dry grass and twigs. The word "Death" is overlaid in large white letters at the bottom.

Death

A man in a white shirt and dark tie stands at a podium, gesturing with his hands while speaking to an audience. The background is a red wall with ornate gold-colored decorations. The audience is visible in the foreground, seen from behind.

The logo is centered in the frame. It consists of a white rounded rectangle with a thin black border. Inside, the word "INSIDE" is written in a large, bold, black sans-serif font. Below it, the word "edition" is written in a smaller, white sans-serif font on a solid red rectangular background. The entire logo is set against a blurred background of a newsroom with blue and red lighting and computer monitors.

Offshore drilling is dirty and dangerous. One year ago, the BP Deepwater Horizon disaster took 11 lives and destroyed the livelihoods of many Gulf of Mexico residents. Thousands of marine animals were killed and many more harmed. We must prevent future oil and gas disasters by making the transition from offshore drilling to clean energy. # Group Exercise

Develop a community message campaign (using problem/action structure) for one of the following situations. You want your community to:

Save water for a reason of your choice

Prevent waste/litter or pollutant of your choice

Plan for a disaster of your choice

Target 2 community segments: millennials and baby boomers. How will you reach each segment? What language, visuals, videos and/or music will you use?
